Spirit Rules M. C.

This year's Spirit Week was dominated by the seniors. They took first in all the week's events which included; 50's day, costume day, toga/clash day, and orange and black day. The juniors took second, with the sophomores following in third place. No matter what the results, however, fun was had by all.

The window painting was also very successful. The theme was holidays. Sophomores had Easter, juniors had Christmas, and the seniors had Halloween. A lot of time and effort was put into making these the best windows ever.

The participation of all was spectacular. Everywhere you turned, you saw spirit. Even if a person wasn't dressed for the day, you could see the spirit in the form of enthusiasm. That was what the whole week was about. This week will be remembered by all as the best ever held at Marine City High School.

Our 1987 King and Queen, Chip Andrews and Kristin Koch.

Students Shine!

Do You Remember? 1987-1988?

1987-1988! These years are very important and memorable to all of us, especially the seniors. But besides it being important to all of us, it was also an exciting year worldwide.

U.S. Naval Forces patrolled the Persian Gulf to help secure the safety of oil tankers. At the same time Pope John Paul II was visiting the United States, included Detroit.

U2 led the music scene winning two Grammy Awards with their #1 album "The Joshua Tree". They were one of the few rock bands to ever be on the cover of Time.

The crash of Northwest Flight 255 hit us especially hard because it was our own Metro Airport. The "Miracle Child", Cecilia was the lone survivor and the only bright spot to come out of this tragedy.

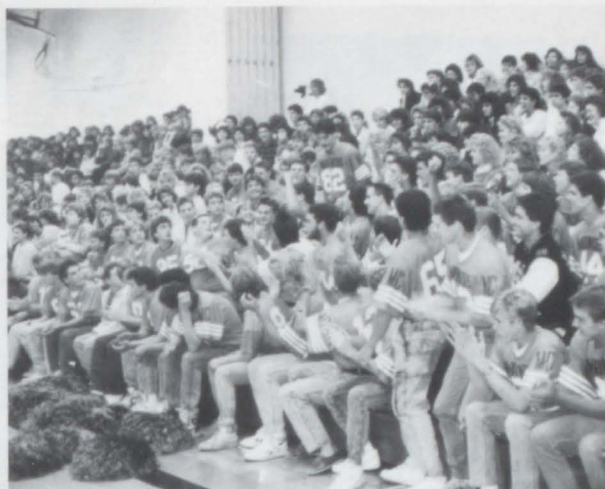

The news was also full of scandals, both political and religious. Jim and Tammy Baker received much attention as they were relieved of their television ministry.

These events and many others others helped shape our high school years and they should be remembered.

Memories are the key, not to the past, but to the future. In order to make these memories we must partake in the many activities that make up our student life at M.C.H.S.

It may seem to you that on a quiet, rainy day, not much is going on. You must take a good look at what's happening behind the scenes. There are various clubs and activities to take part in.

If you are interested in taking pictures and experimenting with a camera, the Photography Club is definitely for you! But if you are more on the conservative side, the Computer Club might be the better choice.

If you enjoy heavy competition but don't like to physically exert yourself, then the Quiz Bowl team would love to have you on their side.

Looking for a way to enhance your business skills? The BOEC Club is always ready to welcome new members.

Skill Center is a great idea if you are not planning on going to college but would like to get a good experience and a good job.

There are also other activities happening throughout the year. An Athletic Dance-a-thon was held this year to raise money for new uniforms and equipment for our athletes.

Every year the Student Government and Class Officers hold the Red Cross Blood Drive which lets the student body aid in giving the gift of life.

The students formed together to add a SADD Chapter to Marine City High School. This group shows teens that drinking and driving is unsafe and uncool. So far this organization has been a great success.

Last, but far from least, is Spirit Week, which is the time of year that everyone can kick back and show just how much spirit they have. This is also the time that the Seniors look back and realize that this will be their last Homecoming assembly. From dress up days to painting windows, it became quite obvious that the Class of '88 created their best Homecoming Week ever. This school will definitely miss the spirit and energy this class radiated.

AND THE SPIRIT LIVES ON

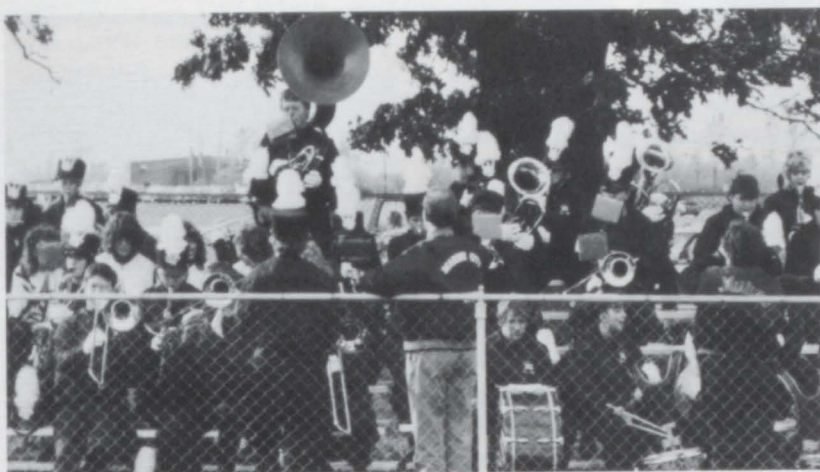

Whenever there is a winning team in Marine City, it seems as though the whole town gets behind the team and roots for success. That's what our 1987 Homecoming was, SUCCESS!

The varsity defeated the opponents, as did the seniors in the week's activities.

The spectators also had their eyes on our band. After his second year here, Mr. Decker has shown his MARINER spirit.

And, the crowd? The players always appreciate a good crowd and on October 9th, the stands were shaking with excitement.

Pep assembly?! Who said there was a pep assembly today?

This question is heard quite often in the halls of M.C.H.S. during football and basketball seasons. Everyone loves a good pep assembly. Students get the awaited opportunity to skip classes and show their spirit through yelling and screaming cheers.

Not only are pep assemblies known for being fun, but they also tell so much about the spirit of our school. Individuals pull together to form a strong, solid group. The sophomores, juniors, and seniors compete against each other for points in cheers and games. These spirit games build togetherness and a need to win throughout the school. People were eager to participate in the festivities. The M.C.H.S. Football Team gathered in front of the student body and led the school in the "U-RAH-RAH" cheer. This cheer will never sound the same again after hearing a large group of spirited football players TRYING to sing it! The seniors created a good feeling for the class of '88 when they defeated the sophomores and juniors with a game score of 36.

Included in the day's events were scooter races, pie eating contests, tug-of-war, the orange pass, and a race to push a ball along a clothesline using only your hot air! The cheerleaders performed several skits. The most popular skit involved a cheerleader dressed as Mr. War-kentein.

The pep assemblies definitely served their purpose of spreading spirit and enthusiasm as the football team went on to easily win M.C.H.S.'s 1987 Homecoming game against Richmond.

Yes, "pep" was the key word in developing a winning spirit and creating an atmosphere of enthusiasm and excitement.

Even though there was no snow on the ground, many people showed up at the annual Christmas parade with lots of spirit. All of the kids awaited the arrival of Santa Claus at the end of the parade, and he promised them all they would get what they asked for. The parade started out with many floats, followed by the Marine City High School Marching Mariners, the spirited cheerleaders and the Snow Court. At the end of the parade was what everyone was waiting for . . . Santa Claus. We hope that the Christmas spirit carries on through the years with this tradition.

STUDENTS AGAINST DRIVING DRUNK

Students Against Drinking and Driving (S.A.D.D.), is an organization in our school to try and stop people in our city and school from drinking and driving. The group is run by four officer's; President Kurt Kammer, Vice President Chris Herbert, Treasurer Cristine McColley, Secretary Carolyn Jones. "I am really against drinking and driving", says President Kurt Kammer I don't know why people have to drink to have fun because you can go to a party without drinking and still have a great time. Fortunately, Marine City High School has never lost a student to an alcohol related accident.

SMART THINKING

The Quiz Bowl Team is looking forward to an exciting season with all but one member of last year's team returning. Last year's team finished third in the league, but finished with a flourish by taking third in the Dan DeGrow regional meet.

Quiz Bowl is intense mental competition. It involves answering questions from a variety of areas with as much quickness as possible. Each team has four players who try to ring in with the correct answer before the other team can. If your team rings in with the correct answer first, you get a bonus question where the whole team may confer for five seconds before giving an answer. The only way to lose points is to ring in early with an incorrect answer. Each match consists of three, ten-minute rounds, after which the team with the highest score is declared the winner.

The Computer Club is another group that is good for the mind. This involves those who enjoy computers. They put on a display during Parent-Teacher Conferences and they also teach computers to elementary students. In between these projects they have programming competitions among themselves.

STARS IN THEIR EYES

The Drama Club was very active this year. The talented members of the group put on a talent show and met many times during lunch hour and after school to prepare for it. They were kept busy seeing that every little detail was taken care of and not over-looked. Congratulations on a job well done!

ROCKING FOR MONEY

TOP: "This is how to play the game of Pictionary," says Amy Wallace to Renette Bracha.

The Rock-a-thon is held yearly to raise money for the Senior Prom. This year about one fourth of the junior class showed up for this traditional event. The junior class managed to make one thousand dollars. Besides the Rock-a-thon, the juniors also sold M & M's.

During this time, the students spent their time talking, eating, drinking, and sleeping. Some of the girls sat around and played games such as Pictionary or bridge.

Whenever they were caught goofing around or not rocking, they were encouraged to keep on rocking for the good of the group.

Breaks came every hour for the whole group, and many of the rockers spent their five minutes on the phone. Five minutes really went by fast and then, it was back to the rocking chairs for another round.

The juniors loved to be together at this time to help raise money for the dance, and it was a big success!

TOUCH THE FUTURE

BOEC stands for Business and Office Educational Club. In January, the regional competition was held at Baker College in Flint. Many members placed in the top 8 of their category and were able to go on to the State Competition at the Renaissance Center.

In October, all of the officers went to the regional leadership conference which was held at the St. Clair Inn. They learned better ways of conducting a meeting and the different demands of their individual positions. The theme for this year's BOEC State Competition is "Touch the Future" and that's exactly what they are doing!

The officers for BOEC in 87-88 are: Jennifer Anson-Treasurer, Kristina Coburn-Secretary, Joe Page-Vice-President, Carolyn Jones-President, Sheila Coburn-Parliamentarian, and Kristina Powers-Photographer/Reporter. These officers helped guide the members throughout the year. Thanks for doing a great job!

CAREER TRAINING

High school is a time when students prepare themselves for their life after graduation. The Skill Center presents great opportunities for all students enrolled in any of the St. Clair County high schools.

The Skill Center is a career training program for those students interested in a vocational career. These classes range from business education to health care to auto-body repair. This program often supplies a job for the students upon graduation from high school.

Students spend half of the six hour day at the Skill Center and the other half at their own high schools. This time is in no way like a field trip. The program requires hard work and dedication by all students who are involved.

SPORTS ILLUSTRATED

FUMBLE FORCE

Under their new head coach, Bob Staskiewicz, beating area teams came easy to the 1987 Varsity Football Team. Down- ing tough teams like Lake Orion, Cros-Lex, and St. Clair inspired the team throughout the season. Many of the players made "All- League" teams, which was the reward they awaited for, for their hard work and effort throughout the season. The season is over, but not forgotten. Famous quotes like Mr. Scarcelli's, "He wants an explanation," from Cros-Lex, and Mr. Stas- kiewicz endlessly yelling for Itrich on the sidelines, when he was right in front of him, spru- ced up the season a bit. Nick- names, like Gilligan, Fat Head, Action Jackson, and Farret Face gave life to the grueling prac- tices. The Mariners finished 7-2 overall and 4-1 in the SCAL. With the addition of the new of- fense and defense, the Mariners became a very intimidating foot- ball threat to opposing teams. The Mariners are looking for- ward to a second year under the new coaching system and new style of play.

ORANGE ATTACK

The J.V. Football Team compiled a 7-2 record, after a 5-0 start. Tough losses to teams like Lake Orion could have wrecked their season, but the J.V. Mariners took it in stride. The team was tough and never gave up, never getting quite the recognition they deserved. They were anchored by a strong defensive line, as well as a powerful offensive backfield. Never getting down on themselves when they were losing was the key to most of their hard-fought victories, and led them to another winning season.

TOUGH ENOUGH

The 1987 Girls' Varsity Basketball Team had a competitive season. There were some rough times, but the team never gave up. The season ended with a 2-18 record overall. Even though the record ended up this way, the team really had a lot of effort which is really what counts the most.

The one thing that showed throughout the season was their great sportsmanship and their dedication in never giving up. The league had some real tough competitors and they held on very well. The team was made up of six seniors, five juniors, and one sophomore. They had a lot of talent and ability and should be respected by all. "Take PRIDE in everything you do!", was Coach Len Goulding's favorite phrase. The most important thing was that the team had fun.

JUMP SHOT

All high school sports are considered a growing experience and a challenge; junior varsity basketball is no exception. This year's team spent many long hours enduring Coach Dunker's long and vigorous practices. Making these practices go by a little quicker was Coach Dunker's sense of humor and easy going personality.

A summer camp program was available here at Marine City High School for these girls. Many new techniques were learned and the whole team benefited from it. The excessive amount of work on lay ups, jump shots, and "Michigans" was well worth the time.

Enthusiasm and competition was added this season when the scoring system was changed. It is now possible for the players to receive three points for baskets, instead of two, if they are made from the three point line.

The team's ability was quite apparent despite the small size. Many outstanding individual performances were shown throughout the season. The whole team improved many of their skills and boy did it show. Concentration and team work really proved to be the winning combination.

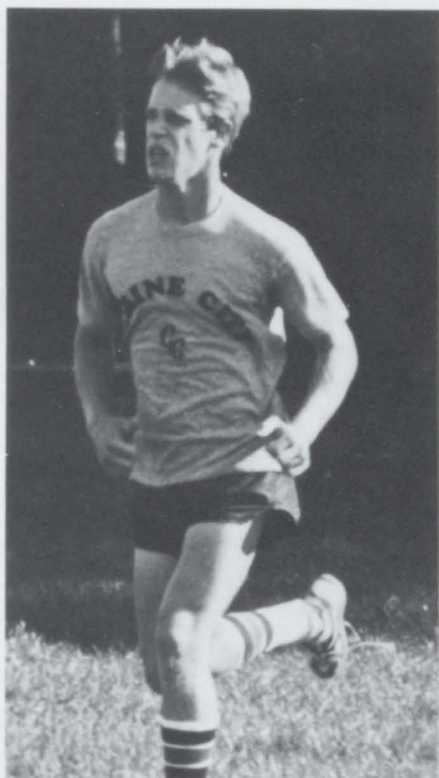

MAKING A DASH

This year's Cross Country Team was larger than ever before. In addition to the traditional girls' team, this year a boys' team was introduced. The girls' team consisted of five runners who all performed extremely well. Three of the runners placed in the first or second teams at the S.C.A.L. meet.

The boys' team included six members who did considerably well for their first year as a team. The vigorous practice schedule and the long grueling hours of running really paid off. The team turned in some fine individual performances, and when it came time to compete they all pulled together.

Second-year Coach Peg Brooks was proud of both teams but would like to see more runners out there.

TAKING THE PLUNGE

Marine City High School should be very proud of its first all-girls' swim team. Last Spring, a few outgoing girls asked Mr. Warkentien to support their efforts toward a girls' swim team. With Coach Miller's help they overcame many obstacles and kept striving for their goal until they reached it. Alas, Marine City's very first girls' swim team started in the Fall of 1987.

Although many more people were skeptical of the success this team would have, the small team of ten girls put forth a valiant effort and proved its will to succeed. Many individual records were broken including; diving, the 200 yard individual medley, 100 yard butterfly, and the 400 yard freestyle relay.

The key to their success was acting as a team that had confidence in themselves and in each other.

GOLF IS FOR THE SERIOUS

1987 was the best year the Golf Team has had in a long time. They finished the season with an outstanding overall record of 6-6.

To be a part of the Golf Team, you must be an individualist. You must work on your own but you must also remember that your teammates depend on you for the overall score.

This year's team consisted of; Sophomores John Berg, Steve Fosgard and Steven Koch, Juniors Jim Andrews, Brian Koch and Ed Parcell, Seniors Craig Harris and Ken Shonk.

The team leaders were Brian Koch and Ed Parcell, with average scores in the high forties. In the district tournament, the Marine City Golf Team came in third place, behind St. Clair and Marysville. Craig Harris did the best for Marine City at the districts, which was eighth place with a score of 96 for 18 holes.

The entire team put forth a good effort the whole year to regain their respect in the league and school, which is a great accomplishment for them. We should give these young men a pat on the back. Congratulations Team.

JAM SESSION

With only three returning lettermen, the boys' varsity basketball team started off the season with a strong determination to overcome its youth and inexperience.

The rebounding strength and the injuries sustained by the players were other challenges faced by the team. There was someone hurt in almost every game, but in spite of it all, the team experienced an inspiring season.

The season had its high points with a close win over favored Richmond and an easy ride past rival St. Clair. Local fans offered their continued support.

"It's a big adjustment from J.V. to varsity," said Coach Walker. The returning lettermen, including four starters, should have what it takes to enjoy a winning season next year.

STRIVING FOR EXCELLENCE

The 1987-88 Marine City Boys' Junior Varsity Basketball Team had a great season. The team was made up of strictly sophomores this year. Thirteen talented boys played outstanding defensive and offensive games throughout the season. Although the team experienced several disappointments, the gratifying achievements it had out weighed them.

The hard practices given by Coach Alley proved the dedication the team had. The most important aspect of basketball is team work, without it a team would have nothing. Our team showed us, in more ways than one, that it had this important factor. Through some of the tougher games all of the members pulled together and sustained their will to succeed.

The J.V. basketball team had a promising season record of 9 wins and 11 losses. We are all looking forward to seeing a winning season next year.

SET IT UP!

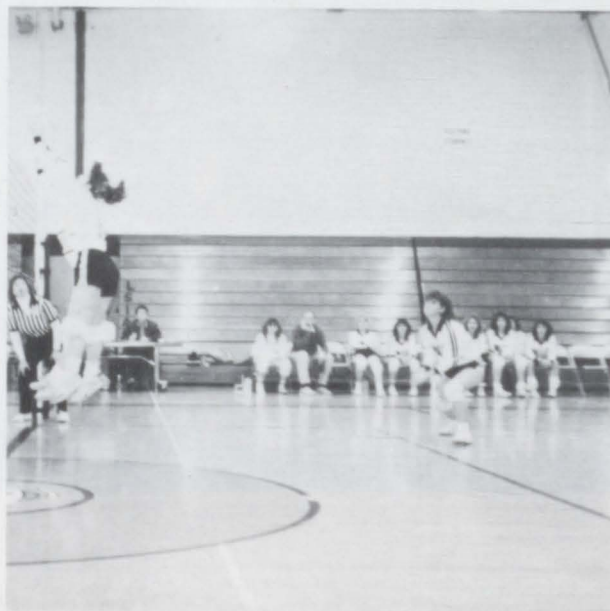

The 1988 Girls' Varsity Volleyball Team started out a great season by winning the Mariner Tournament. "This was a turning point in the Marine City Girls' Volleyball program," was the comment of Coach Chuck Weisner. The team, composed of seven seniors and six juniors, was very well balanced. It was not just a few good players; the whole team made it what it was. Spiking or bumping was not dominated by any one player. Because of their efforts in vicious spiking and delicate setting, the team captured many game victories. They had very hard and demanding practices to make them what they were. The team never stopped improving their skills. The strong start seemed to give them a spark of confidence that helped carry them through the season.

MARINER MAGIC

This year's MC J.V. Volleyball Team, which consisted of ten players, was coached by Kathy McDonald. This was her first season as a coach at Marine City High School, and she enjoyed it very much. Many of the players were equally pleased with the season, and they really had a super time. "I had the time of my life playing volleyball this year!" exclaimed Kim Kammer. Jennifer Osterland said that even though she was moving up to varsity next year, she would certainly miss everyone.

Yes, it was a magical time. The record for the team was very good. They earned first place for the St. Clair Area League which contained the teams from Marine City, Algonac, St. Clair, Marysville, Cross-Lex, and Richmond. They also won a tournament in the beginning of the season which consisted of many schools from around the area. Schools as far as Detroit showed up for this tournament. The girls received a trophy for their outstanding work and effort.

Coach McDonald felt the season was a success and she enjoyed working with such a talented group of girls. Teamwork is the key word when working with any group, and these girls learned the value of working together for the best interests of team.

The Marine City Wrestling Team had a good year. The coaches, both former Marine City wrestlers, helped the team keep up the optimistic feeling. The whole school was rooting for success.

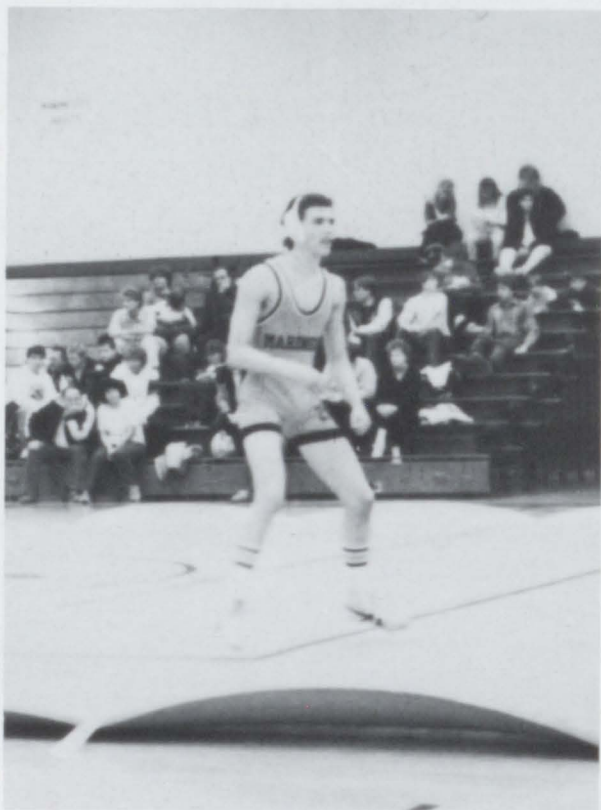

The coaches, Pete Hermansen and Don Davenport, helped get the team going. They got the team fired up before the matches and coached them all the way. They had a lot of fun together before and after the matches. Of course, as with any sport, there had to be much effort put into it. For example, the team spent many hours after school practicing, cleaning the mats and, of course, messing around. The members worked together as a team to support each other, and this helped them take down any challenge.

Despite the injuries the team did an overall good job!

They had a record amount of people go out for the team this year, which helped the team fill in the empty weight classes. Wrestling at Marine City High School has become a very popular sport, and one which challenges each individual team member to do his best!

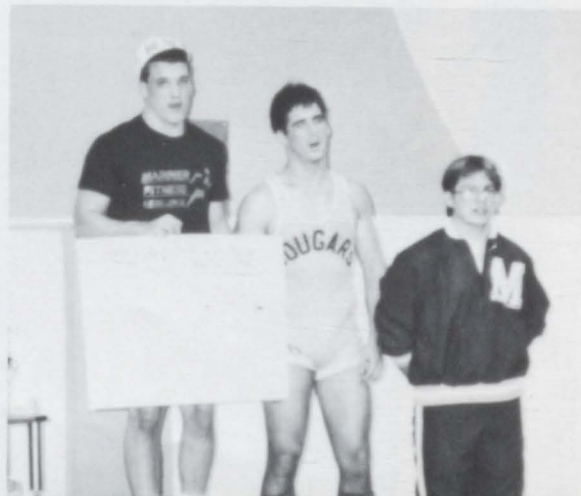

PIN TO WIN

Taking A Dive

ABOVE: Competition is tough as Scott Acre competes in the backstroke event.
BELOW: As Chuck Daniel takes a breath in the freestyle race, his good stroking and pace are quite obvious.

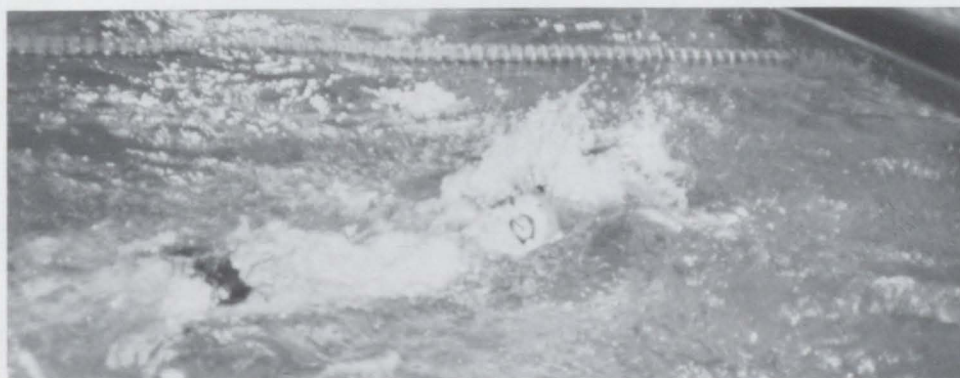

Your stomach tightens as you stand on the starting blocks waiting for the referee to shoot off the gun. You're afraid to breathe for fear of false starting. Finally, the gun sounds and you plunge into the water with only one thought on your mind — winning the race.

The Marine City Boys' Varsity Swim Team acquired many new members this year. Several were first year members who got off to a great start. Those who have been on the team previously improved their records.

With fourteen outgoing young gentlemen backing each other up, the swim team had a remarkable season. Many school and personal records were broken, several more than once. Each member counts on the others for support and confidence. Each and every meet takes team work and determination.

BAT BUSTERS

Beating Class A teams like Anchor Bay, Lanse Creuse, and Port Huron Northern, gave the 1987 Mariner Varsity Baseball Team incentive while on the road to victory! The Mariners came out with a 16-8 record. A very good record considering the young team and tough schedule. The Mariners developed a strong offense, being shut out only once all season. The Mariners outscored their opponents 220 to 105, an average of 9 to 4. Mr. Carlson led his team on once again to a strong performance throughout the season. "Strong pitching performances and hitting to back it up were the keys to victory this season," said Mr. Carlson. Good-bye Coach!

SLUG IT OUT!

Stealing bases and making the right catches were enough incentive for the Mariners to finish the season with a 7-11 overall record. With hard work and dedication, it was a real learning experience for them! The future holds great promise for this energetic, young team full of enthusiasm.

BATTER UP

Team spirit is the first thing that comes to mind when the Marine City Girls' Varsity Softball team is mentioned. Despite a rough start, the girls came through to win the Anchor Bay Tournaments. With the young team, six juniors, three sophomores, and one freshman, a permanent position was hard to keep. The team had many capable players who were more than able to start, but not everyone had that chance in every game.

Coach Osterland has high expectations for the following season's team, with this year's team returning plus many new players. He's hoping many new players will discover how much fun softball really is.

Through good times, bad times, rain, and shine the team members stuck together and strived for perfection. This quality is extremely important in sports since each individual's effort falls on the team as a whole. No one person can be expected to win a game.

But softball isn't just hard work and dedication. You play softball for the sheer enjoyment of winning and watching the ball you hit sail over the far fence. Coach Osterland knows that many more players will discover how much fun the game really is once they get into it and begin to progress.

Rallying to the lead is a big part of the game. Being alert to make contact with the ball and to judge throws perfectly is equally important to secure a win.

STRIVING FOR PERFECTION

RIGHT: With perfect form, Lynn Southard prepares to hit a home run.

BELOW: Quickly fielding a ground ball, Lynn Southard insures a double play.

There are many aggravations in being a part of an athletic team. You must put in long hours, endure hard practices, and be prepared to give at least 200 percent.

Although our 1987 Girls Junior Varsity Softball Team had a slow start, they worked very hard to improve themselves.

Since there were only a handful, all had to take on added responsibilities, which they handled well.

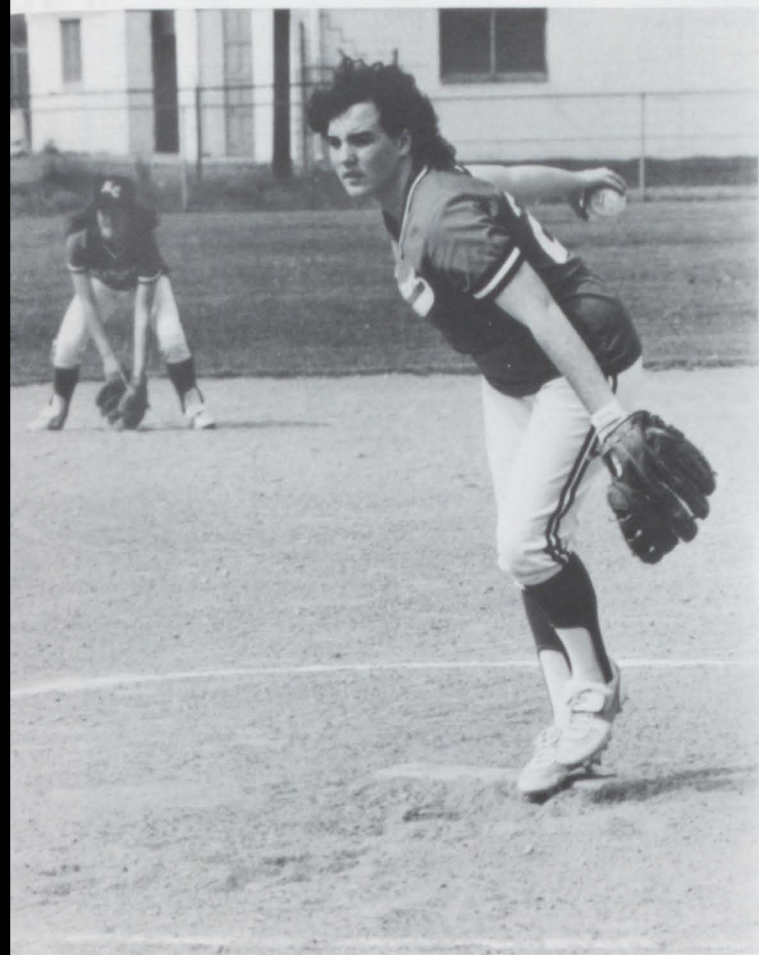

"If wins and losses were the only way to measure the success of a season, this year's J.V. Softball Team would have had a depressing year. In a time with only two wins, it would have been easy for the girls to develop a bad attitude or quit. All the credit goes to those that stuck it out and always gave their best!" was how Coach Alley summed up the season.

We must look up to these strong-willed girls and appreciate their dedication to the sport.

As for the following year, we can only wish them the best of luck. And if courage, dedication, and the urge to improve are the keys to success, these girls definitely will succeed.

LEFT: Togetherness is a firm belief of Darian Walkup, Kurt Kammer, and Marc Sonnenfeld.

BELOW: "I hope I make a good throw," says Kurt Kammer.

This year's boys' track team demonstrated their fierce dedication to win. Everyone tried their hardest at the meets and invationals. Although they did not win every meet, many of the members placed high in their events.

The track team is to be commended for practicing many long hours after school and on weekends. Regardless of rain or shine, all the members stuck to their vigorous training and went to competitions with no complaints. All these men showed the pride they have put forth for our school.

ABOVE LEFT: As Coach Parmentier shows Solomon Foster the correct way to throw the shotput, Sol thinks, "But Coach, I already know the right way to position my hands and feet."

BELOW: "Wow! I did it," says Ron Rhoades as he receives a first place medal for this perfect long jump.

"Well, Coach Parmentier was right again," says Solomon Foster after he threw his farthest shot yet.

RUNNING HARD

LEFT: A look of heavy concentration is on Stacey Spencer's face as she listens for the sound of the gun. ABOVE: "I want to win", says Keri Parmentier, as she pushes herself ahead to earn a first place medal. BELOW: The 1987-88 Girls Track Team. TOP: Coach Rombach, Denise Dupre, Michelle Roy, Tricia Zyrowski, Chris Simons, Carolyn Jones, Felicia Huntly, Amy Wallace, Melisia Courier, Coach Goulding. MIDDLE: Stacy Spencer, Lisa Fausone, Beth Abetta, Keri Parmentier, Stacy Silvis, Michelle Allam, Amy Schweiger, Teri Polio.

Even if the MCHS Girls' Varsity Track Team didn't have such a great season, they were still as hard working and devoted as ever. Mariner Pride ran high as the girls pushed for success. Never giving up, coupled with their strong will to succeed, proved to be a strong point. Some individuals on the team turned in their strongest season. Although it may not have been the greatest for the girls, they keep their heads high as they approached the end and reached their goals for the year. The team hopes to grow and succeed in the future.

Spirit was the main priority of the team as they struggled through the slow season. They knew the season would improve as it went along.

ON THE MOVE

Practice, workouts, raquets and balls flying everywhere. What is it? Tennis!!

Becoming a Boris Becker or a Pat Shriver is the dream of every person on the team. Why Not? They are some of the best and everyone's ambitions should be high.

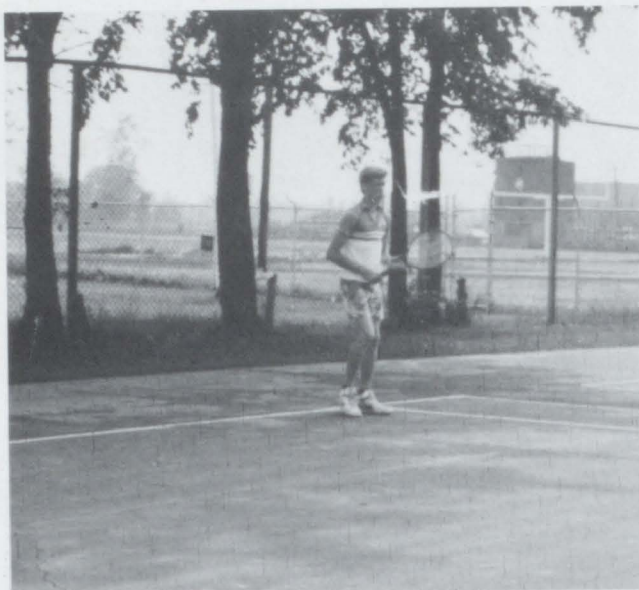

With a 7-7 win loss record, tying for second at the Yale Doubles Invitational, tying for 7th at the Regionals and 4th at the SCAL meet "It's not whether you win or lose it's how you play the game," was the popular attitude of the 87' tennis team.

With 4 Seniors, 9 Juniors and 11 Sophomores the team's competition was tough. It was hard to make 1st singles or 1st doubles, but just about everyone stuck with it for the whole season.

With such a young team and a successful season Mr. Chamberlain is looking forward to much of the same for next year.

Tennis is not a publicized sport but the time and efforts put into the sport are rewarding.

LEFT BELOW: "I've heard that excuse too many times", says Mr. Chamberlain of the expression "But I didn't see the ball!"

BELOW: Strong leg muscles make a quick tennis player of Sean Dunn.

BOTTOM: A cheerleader must always be prepared to jump up and do the routine for the school song, as demonstrated by Michelle Maiuri, Molly McLouth, Tricia Ralston.

Contrary to popular opinion, cheerleading is a lot of work. How many of you can do a cartwheel much less the splits? A cheerleader must be an acrobat and stay in shape all year round. Beginning at the start of the school year with football season. After football season they have a two week break and then they start preparing themselves for basketball season. This season is the more demanding of the two. There are more Pep Assemblies, games and dance routines to rehearse for. And how many of us can get up in front of the whole school and parents and perform a skit or dance routine?

Marine City is lucky to have such talent on both squads this year. They have started a new program this year by working with the junior high school cheerleaders. In this way the younger cheerleaders are able to recognize their mistakes and improve upon themselves and they will also be able to better prepare themselves for their first year away at camp.

Our cheerleaders went to Pep America, as they do every year, and did very well. They were the most spirited school, earned three outstanding ribbons and two excellent ribbons, which is the best that Marine City has ever done at this camp.

The squad is doing very well considering that there are many new additions to the squad. These additions have never been cheerleaders and we should commend them for their performance.

MARINER SPIRIT ... C-C-C-CATCH IT!

ABOVE: Hey! It's the new cheerleading alternates! Defensive Tackle Jay Folske and Offensive Tackle Kurt Kammer.
MIDDLE: Flying through the air with the greatest of ease is Lynn Reynolds.

They are also taking part in competitions this year, which they are confident to do extremely well in. Competition gives them the chance to talk with other cheerleaders and exchange new and exciting ideas.

Although cheerleading is quite demanding, our cheerleaders accomplish the job that needs to be done with enthusiasm, ease and style!

As spirited as ever is the 1987 Varsity Cheerleading squad: Becky Luce, Lynn Schmidt, Michelle May, Kathy Maitland, Tammy Potvin, Jesse Whitsell, Amy Schnieder, Lynn Reynolds, Jamie Daniel, and Angie Knott.

A TIME TO SHINE

Sophomores are faced with the new and exciting challenges of being in high school. This year's sophomores quickly picked up the pace by electing their class officers who helped organize many activities throughout the year. The responsibilities assumed by the class officers are taken very seriously because everyone wants this first high school year to be a success.

Sophomores are faced with choosing their class rings which show their individuality and togetherness as a class. Class rings are worn with pride and represent a lot of great memories for students. The Balfour Ring Company satisfied every customers in the decision of the perfect ring. For many, this was a personal moment from the sophomore year and a lingering memory which lasts a lifetime.

This sophomore year will never be forgotten. By the time the end of the year approached, each sophomore was already looking forward to the junior year.

SOPHOMORE SPUNK!!

Starting this sophomore year at the high school meant a whole new experience for every sophomore. We met new teachers, found our way through the halls of a new school, and eventually became accustomed to a new schedule. Many things about the high school we had already heard from relatives and older brothers or sisters, and we were anxious to find out whether the stories were really true.

The books seemed incredibly thick and the teachers actually talked about getting through them by the end of the year! How far away the summer seemed, so we slowly started to count the days . . .

We spent time cruising, going to the movies, and to school dances and games. As the year drew to a close, we realized how much we had grown and how much we had learned, not only from books but also from upper-classmen. The year went by so fast and before we realized it, we were looking forward to our junior year and all the different activities we would be doing.

The subjects were difficult but we made it!!

Goodbye sophomore year!!

SOPHOMORES ON THE RISE

We are the sophomores; the class of "1990"; the future of tomorrow. We have dreams, hopes, and desires for the future. We strive for success and achieve it in the end, and we look forward with anticipation and excitement to the years which lie ahead. We're learning to make the most of what we have and not let anything hold us back. The thoughts we have about our future lie buried in our minds. As we think about this sophomore year, our thoughts include; fitting in with old friends in a new place, picking out that special ring, participating in sports activities, meeting new friends, choosing the right classes, and having a great year!

Friends Always

As we advance higher in school we have steadily grown closer. Everyone is anticipating the year 1990 — the last year we will be together. There will be so many memories, especially from our sophomore year. So many of us have formed new friendships with the juniors and this year's graduating seniors. We will dearly miss them and forever wish them the best. It will be hard to say our good-byes as they have shown us how to be terrific seniors by staying together. We hope we will stay friends always.

LOOKING AHEAD

Juniors-The hope of '89-We know that tomorrow will be better because we are here to make it stronger. We will be making the decisions of what we are going to do. We have to remember that champions never quit and quitters can never be champions. It's important to try to succeed in whatever you do. We know life's challenges are demanding, and working together was a valuable experience for the junior class. Spirit Week was a great event as the juniors tried to pull ahead of the seniors. To everyone who participated, we give a big "Thanks".

The junior class represents a book of knowledge that hasn't been opened yet. The hopes and dreams of the junior class, the class of eighty-nine, are growing stronger and stronger.

Keep on Rockin'

Since this was our second year in high school, we were very stabilized. The juniors continued the very successful 8 year old tradition of the Rock-a-thon to help raise money for the Prom. Everyone who attended this festive event had a terrific time just rocking the day away with friends.

Many juniors also spent a lunch hour selling M&M's for additional Prom funds. With all the fun times and memories, it was forgotten that this was supposed to be work. Our junior year will always be remembered fondly.

THE HOPEFUL FUTURE

We the class of "1989" are just starting our future. The year is coming closer for us to step out in the world of the unknown. The light at the end of the path is getting brighter. The future is ours to create and conquer; to plan. We have set goals for ourselves which we will have to work for. We grow each day as we go through life. Each day brings new decisions to make and new problems to solve. Time will not stand still for us. Next year we will be seniors and we look forward to it with great anticipation.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

The class of '89' has come out to show Marine City High School what they are really like: funny, crazy, or even super smart. Everyone in this class is an individual, a person with his or her own style, and a talent which each person knows exists deep inside. We worked hard, and it showed throughout the year. We are proud of ourselves and give each other a pat on the back. Next year we will be seniors and will show our true black and orange spirit. We are the class of '89 and Mariners all the way.

Taking a break from cheering are Most Spirited Kurt Kammer and Kathy Maitland.

Best Dressed Kim Beattie and Todd Edwards are caught returning from their latest shopping spree at Lakeside.

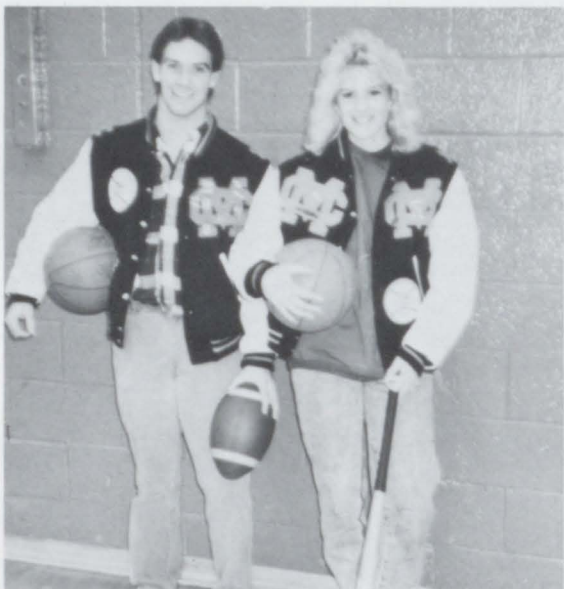

Bassoon playing is only one of the many talents of Becky Bonser and Sol Foster, who were this year's students voted Most Likely to Succeed.

Displaying just one of the many trends they have set are Becky Osterland and Pete Workman.

Chip Andrews and Jamie Kaufman get stopped once again for a look at those sexy legs.

Displaying some of their athletic skills are Class Jocks Eric Miller and Kristen Koch.

Showing off one of their latest fender benders are Worst Drivers Tracey Vandenbossche and Dean Hart.

Attempting to rope a goat in a Texas rodeo is Loretta Clay who is Most Daring.

Felecia Huntley and Craig Harris are everyone's vote for Best Personality.

Pssst! And fooled once again are Most Gullable Randy Westrick and Kristi Williams.

People tell Kelly Westrick and Rick Turke jokes just to hear them laugh.

Demonstrating why he was voted Most Daring is Chris Burton, as he balances a chair on top of a chair on the edge of a cliff.

Class Clowns Laura Wassler and John James practice their latest pastime.

Grumpy as usual are Class Complainers Joe Uppleger, Chris Simons and Jay Folske.

AT THE END

As the year is winding down, we realize that we must prepare to go out in the real world. Our high school years have been a time for preparing us for this moment. With the variety of classes offered, we have had the opportunity to explore our interests. Whether you're college bound or heading for the job market, your experiences at MCHS will definitely be helpful.

White, sandy beaches, crystal-clear water, the aroma of sun-tan lotion, and the feel of the sun baking on tanned bodies sums up Spring Break. Like the birds who fly south for the winter, seniors flew, (or drove), to Florida to experience this long-awaited adventure. To the seniors, Spring Break was more than just a vacation. Plans and reservations were made months ahead of time, then the countdown began!

Once there, seniors were not too hard to find because they were everywhere. In the end, Spring Break was a celebration of friends, and part of the final chapter of high school life.

THIS IS IT . . .

Through our years at Marine City High School, we have learned not only how to follow, but also how to lead. For a long time we have looked forward to our senior year with anticipation, and now all of those years of hard work have finally paid off.

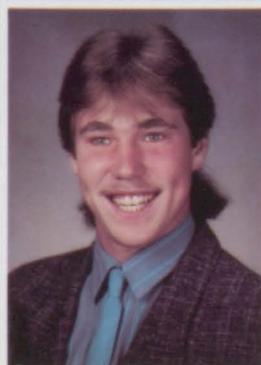

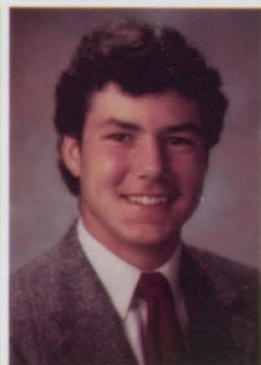

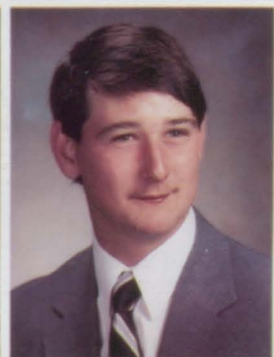

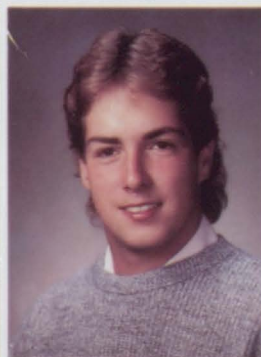

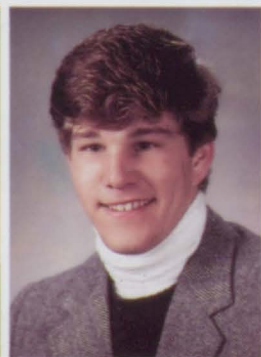

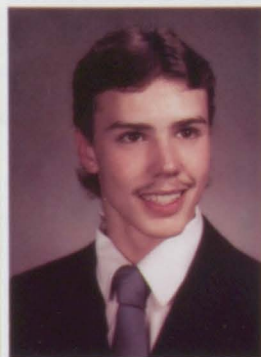

Even though we are nearing the end of our school days, there are still many things to look forward to - Daytona Beach, our senior prom, and commencements, to name only a few.

We must also consider our plans for the future. For some of us, graduation will move us onto further educational experiences. Colleges and trade schools will take the place of the high school hallways. For others, the working world will present great opportunities for career arrangements, successful jobs, and basic future plans.

Taking everything into consideration, it would be more than fair to say that we are all proud members of the graduating class of 1988. Many memories have been made over the years that will not be forgotten, but nevertheless, time passes and we are slowly working a path to our futures.

We will leave this school together as a class, but more importantly, we will also leave as well-rounded, responsible individuals looking forward to what lies ahead.

V.I.P.-S LAST YEAR

V.I.P.-S. Very Important People-Seniors. Everyone starts to look forward to their senior year when they're in the sixth grade. Figuring out what year graduation will take place, starting to think about junior high and finally all the decision-making opportunities. Should I go to the skill center? What kind of a future will I have? What field should I go into? Do I really want to go to college? Well, of course everyone finally does make the right decisions proving that the class of '88 does have a bright future. Congratulations seniors on a school career well done!

DISCOVERY

Academics is what a school is really about; band, choir, foreign languages, business classes, English, math, science, computers, honor students, student government, National Honor Society, and teachers' aides. Then again, what would academics be without administrators, teachers, counselors, and secretaries. Although academics isn't as exciting as the other activities in the school, it is the most important. Academics will be a vital part of all students' futures because it's a time to discover your goals.

This year, the members of the Marine City High School Band thrived on public performances. Not only did they march in all home football games, but they also gave half-time performances at basketball games. Their schedule included the Lambton Festival, MSBOA District Festival, four parades, and various concerts. For the first time ever, the band, under the direction of Mr. Paul Decker, played for the girls' basketball team and helped lift the morale.

There have been numerous compliments from the public and also actual band members. As one student said, "The band has shown great improvement in the past two years."

All band members are divided into sections according to the instruments they play. The brass section includes trumpets, French horns, trombones, baritones, and tubas. The woodwind section consists of flutes, clarinets, saxophones, oboes, and bassoons. The last section is called the percussion section, or the drum section which speaks for itself. The 1987-1988 school year has been the first year to see the "Marching Mariners" wearing new white gloves and new white plumes in their hats. We look to additional compliments and advancements to be made in the near future.

"To play the trombone correctly takes a lot of skill and practice!" says Larry Prange. He has everything it takes and adds a lot of fun to the band with his great sense of humor.

Showing deep concentration on their counting during a concert to make sure they come in on time are Gina Romano, Ron Pettinger, and Kristin Koch. They make up part of the band's percussion section.

NAME THAT TUNE

Choir is an important class for many Marine City High School students. They have that special talent they share with everyone. They spend many hours and days practicing their songs and choreography which must be perfect in order to perform in concert. This year they sang at the high school for their Christmas Concert, showing a lot of spirit.

There are two separate groups: The Honors Choir and The Mariner Connection. They all work together to make the whole choir the best ever at Marine City High. With so many songs to remember no one had time to clown around, but they have lots of fun and enjoy doing their own job: Singing!

RIGHT: The expression in Rebecca Luce's eyes shows how much fun singing really is. Choir is one of her most exciting classes and she looks forward to that class.

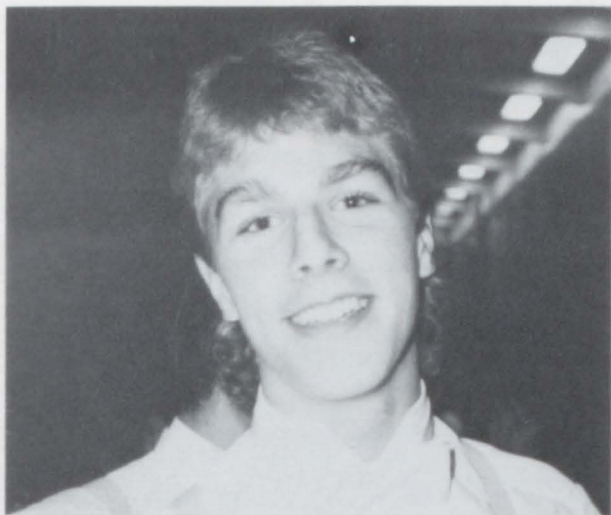

LEFT: During the Christmas Concert, Heather Spencer knows that her audience likes to hear her sing. She is very excited about singing in the Christmas Concert.

ABOVE: Cristine McColley says: "You better watch out because Santa Claus is coming to town." She has been in choir for six years and she loves every minute of it.

LEFT: "Nah-nana-naha!" snickers Kathleen Wood, after proving to her opponents that she knows her Spanish trivia. BELOW: Mrs. Hermansen works with her aide, Shelley Dannels, on a ditto.

Tacos, burritos, and las cucarachas! Although we use these words in our everyday dialogue, you probably don't think about their origin. In Spanish class, you learn about the Spanish-speaking countries, their traditions and customs, foods, and dialects. Many Spanish words are similar to our English words, such as plantas, leccion, conversacion, elefante.

Many favorite American foods are taken from Spanish cultures - tacos, burritos, and tortillas. Even areas of the United States are largely Spanish speaking.

Learning a foreign language is much like learning English when you were in elementary school. You learn new words and how to use them in sentences. Overall, it's fun to dazzle your friends by speaking to them in a foreign tongue! Se habla Espanol!

VIVA ESPANOL!

BONJOUR . . .

. . . is one of the many ways to say "Hello" in French. This class, taught by Miss Choate, is offered to you at MCHS. French is fun to take and a great learning experience. French is offered to students from year one through to year four.

French I has very many great opportunities for everyone. They learn cultures and experiment with French food. They play American games such as Password and Trivia using French words. It's not all fun and games, but sometimes a lot of hard work.

French II is a great class and learning a different language is the best challenge anyone could endure. Your future may depend on it. It's not just a language, it's a great way to learn something you've never known before. French III is a whole world opening up just for you!

ABOVE: Talking about the latest French fashions are Stacy Sylvis and Tara Dyrval.

ABOVE: Conjugating French verbs are Rochelle Roy and Jason Schlatter. This is their third year in French and they really seem to be enjoying themselves.

ABOVE: Tracey Coomer enjoys the last few moments in French until the bell rings. She has decided to quit working and enjoy the last free minutes of class.

ABOVE: Tammy Southard explains how beauty isn't found only in France. She has enjoyed all four years of French.

ABOVE: Lynne Reynolds finds it easier to talk than work in French class. This is her third year in French.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Student Government does a lot for the school. For example, they set up the Homecoming coronation and assembly. They also ran the blood drive, which collected a record amount for our school.

The students who wish to be on the student government send out petitions which must be signed by twenty students and one teacher. After this petition, the student body then votes on these students. The students who win then pick the officers for the Student Government.

The Student Government would not work without the help of teachers, that is where Mr. Scheel comes in. Mr. Scheel supervises the group and makes the final decisions on what gets done.

The Student Government also helps the community by working for The Old News Boys with its worthy cause. The school would be out of a lot of good things without the Student Government. For example the Student Government has set up various dances, and also raises money for the school which helps the teachers and students alike.

ABOVE: Happily working to set up for the Homecoming coronation are Jason Schlatter and Rochelle Roy. These and many other Student Government people helped to make the ceremony successful.

ABOVE: Typing up the schedule for the blood drive is Lori Kopec. Thanks to her and all the students and teachers the blood drive collected a record amount of blood this year for our school!
BELOW: Steve Meganck waits for the coronation to begin.

SUCCESS!!!

The National Honor Society is an organization that recognizes some of Marine City High School's finest students. Members work very hard to maintain a required 3.33 grade point average. Many of these students put long hours into their studies just to have the chance to improve their work and achieve a new goal that they have set for themselves.

The National Honor Society members participated in a tutoring program this year. During this time, they helped students to better understand the material found in difficult classes. It was found to be a very rewarding experience for all who participated.

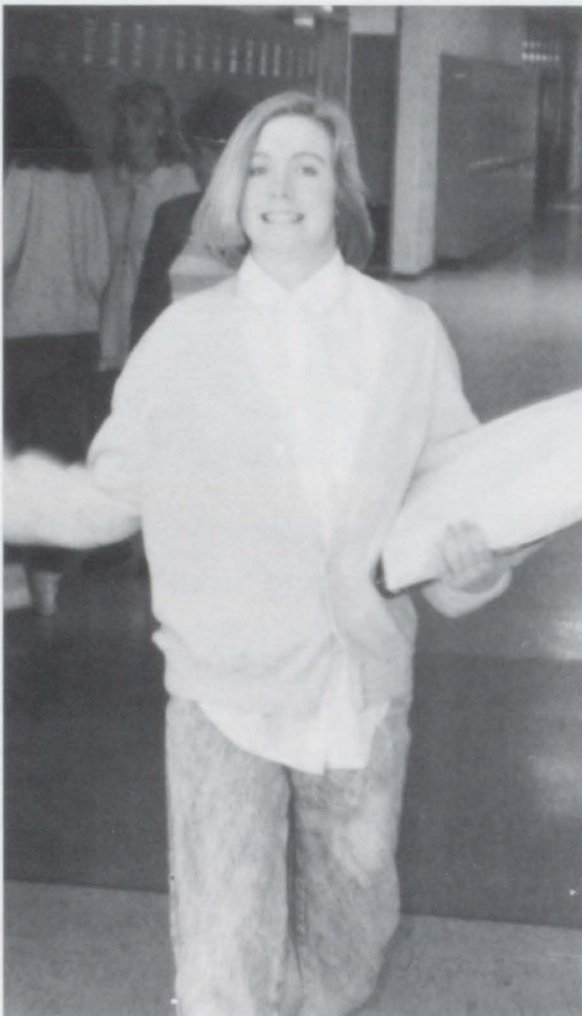

National Honor Society members, in general, are considered to be true academic leaders at Marine City High School.

TOP RIGHT: Carefully considering their senior class announcement choices are National Honor Society members Scott Grieb and Sean Dunn.

BELOW: Looking over the notes from their last meeting are National Honor Society officers Craig Harris, Glen Chamberlain, and Rebecca Bonser.

GOLDEN OPPORTUNITIES

You would be surprised as to how much work was required to be a member of Co-op. While these people worked very hard, they did what they wanted to do. This was only offered to seniors who qualified. Most of them spent a few hours each day receiving on the job training. One person worked at the local radio station, while others worked right in the school. They wanted to learn the secretarial business and quickly learned that the school office was a good experience for them. Many students that are on Co-op started their careers early in the hopes of continuing them even after graduation. Still others found it not to their liking and so they chose a different career. Give Co-op a try; you'll love it!

If you have any intentions on becoming a teacher, the thing to be is a teacher's aide. This provides students with a type of "on the job" training. At the same time, this gives the teachers a little extra assistance.

The job of being a teacher's aide includes; taking attendance, correcting homework and tests, running errands, and any other thing the teacher may ask the aide to do. These are all small duties, but they often are a big help to most teachers. Being a teacher's aide is very popular among students because it is different than any ordinary class.

In order to be a teacher's aide you must be a senior. You must also be responsible, intelligent, and helpful. Try it, most people really enjoy this experience because it is helpful to your education and adds some excitement to your day.

"Togetherness" is a word to describe the relationship that Kelly Westrick and Mrs. Ralston share as aide and teacher. Kelly finds being an aide fun because she is so easy-going.

Duties of Kristi Williams include many things. Mr. Scarcelli is content with the job she does, even if he doesn't seem like it all the time.

Always happy to do his job is Pete Workman. One of his main responsibilities includes typing assignments, which is his favorite thing to do as an aide.

Showing her nice smile is Barb Santer as she does her duties for Mrs. Drews. She does a variety of things, like all teacher's aides seem to do.

HEAD OF THE CLASS

To keep Marine City High School operating smoothly and efficiently is the goal of the administrative staff. The jobs vary among the staff, but they're all important.

Mr. Wingate is basically responsible for everything in the school. No matter if it's a job of another person or not, he takes full responsibility. His main jobs are to evaluate the teachers and to approve all school activities.

Mr. Warkentien has three main jobs which require much attention. These three jobs are; taking care of discipline, attendance, and athletics. In addition to this, he is the President of the St. Clair Area League and an active member of the sports' booster club.

The secretaries are also very busy people. They take care of hourly attendance, ordering books and supplies, selling pens and pencils, and writing letters to parents and various other people. These are only a few things they do to help the school run smoothly. We would not be able to work without their cooperation.

The teachers at Marine City High School work well with all of their students. They make a special effort by staying after school to help any student with a special need or to just talk. They also are willing to give up their lunch hours to go over materials covered in class or to let students make up tests they may have missed. Some teachers don't have enough time to give special attention to every student, so these times give them an opportunity to do so.

As well as doing everyday classroom work, teachers must be aware of any activities going on during school, after school, and outside of school. For instance, there are field trips to other schools, career awareness sessions, pep assemblies, and sporting events. This involvement results in a more organized school.

The counselors are also a very important part of the staff. They take on a full load because they are in charge of scheduling every student. The counselors and teachers together form an efficient team.

ABOVE: Like always, Mr. Harvey entertains his class while sitting in his favorite position. School is always more interesting with him as a teacher.

ABOVE: As the youngest member of the staff, Mr. Glodich is a favorite of his students. Here he tells his class about his personal experiences in life science.

RIGHT: Toads are always given a warm welcome in Mrs. Ralston's office. They come in many sizes, but she loves them all.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT

ABOVE: Proud to be an avid Mariner fan, Mr. Wingate happily poses next to a Mariner ship. He's what Marine City High School's all about.

RIGHT: Mrs. Hermansen and Mrs. Burmann root the football team on to a victory. They share a true friendship between teachers.

Remember how you imagined teachers when you were younger? You thought they were never involved in anything but school. You couldn't understand how teachers led a normal life. Hopefully, now you realize that teachers are ordinary people just like us. Some of us may even become teachers in the future.

For instance, did you know: Mr. Wingate voluntarily works for the St. Clair County Sheriff's Department on its patrol boat? Mr. Scarcelli worked at Tiger Stadium as a bodyguard for Tom Monahan? Mr. Staskiewicz's greatest inspiration is to take the Marine City Football Team to the state finals? Mr. Harvey has an antique shop in a building constructed by Mr. Wingate? Mrs. Ralston has been attending classes at Wayne State University? Mrs. Plizga worked with Ralph Nadar for two summers on an internship in consumer law. Mr. Scheel works part-time as an alcoholism therapist in a substance abuse clinic. Everyone should realize that teachers do have special qualities.

These two pages are specifically dedicated to teachers to show everyone that "teachers are people too!"

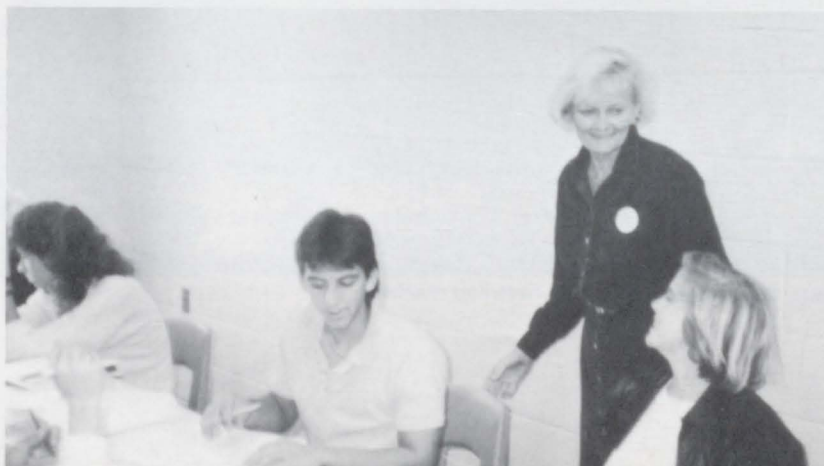

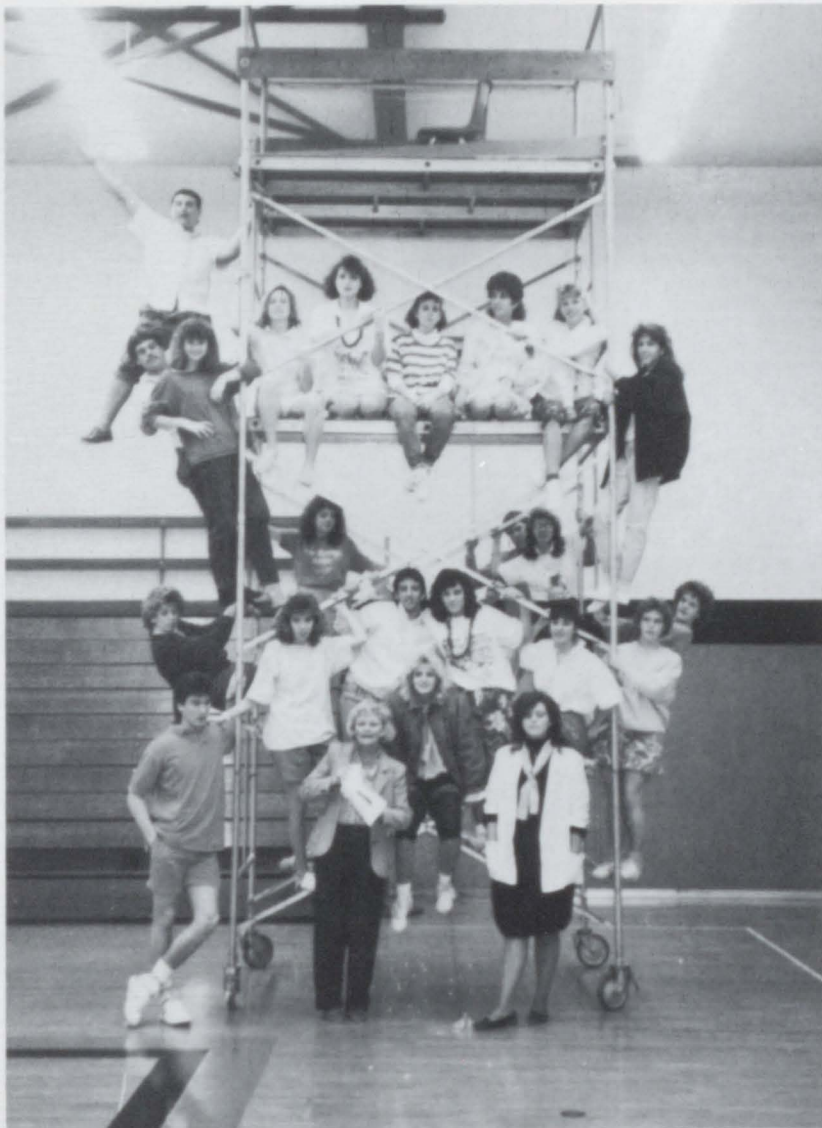

ASPIRIN ANYONE?

There are a lot of things that went into the yearbook class. There are also many ways to describe what went on there; work, play, free time, not enough time, deadlines, pictures, no pictures, fun, exhaustion, and headaches like you would not believe. This is a little of what yearbook was all about. After everything was completed, you were estatic because you got everything done.

Somehow you always did.

A special thanks to the following people; Marion's, Life-touch, Walsworth Publishing Company, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Hermansen and everyone else who sacrificed time and effort to make this book one that will not be equaled.

Consumer Report

THANKS CONTRIBUTORS!

This section has been set aside for a new addition to our yearbook. It is a student ad section. Students were invited to write in to congratulate, say good-bye, or just write a message to someone special.

We were quite pleased with the response we had to this and we hope that this section grows in future yearbooks.

It is always hard to get something started, but once it gets going it is always worth the effort.

We hope you enjoy reading this section and participate in it next year.

Kurt,

MISSION

Well, here we are at the end of the year and the end of the yearbook. To get this far wasn't easy to achieve. We had many setbacks, such as lost pictures and not meeting deadlines. The staff pulled together to make sure that the yearbook was completed. Those of us who have stayed instead of giving up, experienced a lot of pressure and a feeling of accomplishment.

I am proud to have been part of the yearbook staff for the last two years. I'm glad that we finished and produced a book filled with memories for everyone. I hope everyone who sees our book, sees a job well done.

-NICOLE GRIJALVA

Yearbook has been a real learning experience for me. It made my junior and senior years fun and I really got to be part of a group. This helped me to get along with all types of people and I also learned to speak to people I didn't even know (by selling ads).

It was fun helping to decide the colors and the cover of the yearbook. I think doing my own layouts really let me show my individuality and creativity. There was a time when we weren't sure we were going to get this book out, but with the help of Mrs. Hermansen and Mrs. Miller we really pushed to get through it. I hope you enjoy this book as much as I enjoyed helping make it possible.

-BETH MCCOLLISTER

Being in yearbook these past two years has offered many challenges. We worked independently, but we had to pull together to complete the book. Yearbook was one of the few classes where we could see accomplishments and feel that we actually achieved something. These past two years have seen many changes in the yearbook which caused many long hours after school. Working on the different parts of the yearbook has given me many different experiences. Working on the yearbook has added to my high school years and I hope this was reflected in the pages.

-BECKY OSTERLAND

ACCOMPLISHED!

Being on the yearbook staff for the last two years was a lot of fun. I enjoyed the learning experience. This was an independent working class so we had a lot of responsibility. No one could rely on someone else to do the work, and it just couldn't be ignored. If someone didn't do the assigned work, a lot of people who expected a yearbook would be let down. When this was about to happen, someone had to pick up the slack.

All the work was worth it in the end when the book appeared.

Anyone who put time in this book will look at it with special pride because the work is reflected out to everyone. This makes it all worth while.

-TERI POLIO

I really enjoyed being in yearbook the last two years. It was a very good learning experience for me. There were a lot of things we had to do. Pressure was one of the major things. We had layouts to do, deadlines to meet, and final discs to get in the mail. It was fun because we got to work with a lot of people and learn different things. In the two years I worked in the yearbook class, I helped with almost every section.

We devoted a lot of time to this project, and we know it was worth it now that we have the yearbook and see all the good work that was done. This was an experience I will never forget.

-CHRIS SIMONS

What has yearbook meant to me? It has shown me a great amount of responsibility. I have become capable of working on my own and being able to meet deadlines. The closeness of yearbook class was like no other. The people were all counting on each other. Everyone did his or her own thing, but at the end it all came together and we have a masterpiece. I wouldn't trade my yearbook experience for anything!
